Sulfa Tablets Unlock Doors For Girls Trapped in Pratt Hall

By MARION SUMMERS

It was "black" Wednesday for 90 girls when the doctor pronounced Rebecca Prescott a scarlet fever case, and Pratt hall was quarantined.

Initial reactions ranged from disbelief to fright.

"Scarlet fever! Ye Gods, doesn't that affect the eyes, or the ears, or the heart, or something?"

"Quarantine? You're kidding!"

"But I've got to go home this weekend. Joe is up from UCLA."

"What about sorority parties?"

Confusion reigned Wednesday evening. Two capable nurses set up headquarters in the house-mother's room, took temperatures, examined throats for the telltale signs, and tried to calm things down. Everyone played M.D. The power of suggestion produced symptoms of strep throat, small-pox and leprosy.

Frantic Calls Made

The telephones got a strenuous workout as frantic calls were placed to parents, boy-friends and crochety professors who were inconsiderate enough to schedule tests the next day. Nobody knew for sure how long the quarantine would last, but the word would come some time next morning.

The word came, alright. At 10 o'clock Thursday morning the doctor informed the girls that they would be confined five days unless individual sulfa prescriptions could be obtained from family doctors. Sulfa tablets were the golden keys!

Sulfa Comes Through!

The day was spent contacting doctors, reassuring parents that all was well, and worrying about make-up exams.

All day long, restless inmates jumped as the front doorbell rang, announcing a delivery boy.

Finally, as 6 o'clock rolled around, it was clear that the pill was lifting. Sulfa had come through for the eager, and the promise of legal excuse from Friday's classes completed the cure.

The Weather

Weather today! That's about all "???" had to say Friday when he brought in the forecast.

He does say that we're luckier up here than they are in southern part of the state. They had to go many, many miles to do any skiing or tobogganing this weekend. Poor people in the Los Angeles area were suffocating in 80 degree weather.

KLOK Broadcasts SJS Radio Show

The campus funny boys plus one, Johnny Piotti, Ed Dickinson, and Ed Hayden, take to the air-planes Saturday morning, Feb. 10, when the Spartan Review show will be presented.

The half-hour show will be heard over station KLOK, from 9:30 to 10 a.m. It will feature campus interviews, sports, comedy, and music, Dickinson said. An original song from the forthcoming Revelries will be previewed.

Dickinson said that each week the show will feature a "bout of the week." Dickinson and Piotti record all Spartan bouts on tape. Dickinson does the blow by blow and Piotti the color.

Zoo Class Tours

Introduces Draft Bill

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26—A new choice of service method for college students was introduced Friday by George C. Marshall and Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, secretary of defense and director of civil service respectively.

Because the Selective Service act doesn't permit inductees to volunteer last week's regulation to let students finish the school year and then enlist, was found ineffective. A new measure, however, was proposed.

Hershey said that since the Selective Service act permits the reclassification of prospective draftees, he would reopen draft classifications of college students in the last month of the school year. Students then would be able to enlist in the service of their own choice.

The House Armed Services committee also studied the possibility of revoking draft deferments granted to men married since the start of the Korean conflict June 27.

The annual Sophomore event will be held this Friday evening at the Scottish Rite auditorium from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Dick Cresta and his "Wintermist" band will furnish the music.

"The dance is open to all students, and not just sophomores," Abrahams emphasized. He pointed out that last year the sophomore class set a precedent in staging one of the most successful all-school dances of the year.

The "Prohibition Prance" record contest will continue until Wednesday in the outer quad with winners of free bids to be announced on Thursday.

Miss Twombly Says Epidemic Possible Here

By CLIFF MAJERSIK

By mid-afternoon Friday, nearly 800 persons had signed for influenza immunizations, according to Miss Margaret Twombly, director of the Student Health service.

The deadline for the sign-up was Thursday, but the service continued to take names Friday. "We have no guarantee that supplies will arrive in time for those people who signed Friday, but we are doing everything we can to obtain them in time," Miss Twombly said.

The influenza immunizations have been scheduled by the Health office in anticipation of a possible epidemic previously predicted to reach the West coast within a month from both Europe and the South Pacific. Both areas are suffering major epidemics of the type A strain of the disease.

"One or two more serious influenza cases already have appeared on campus," Miss Twombly said. "They were not diagnosed as to the particular strain, so we do not know whether or not they were type A."

"In the event an epidemic does strike the campus, we would not have the facilities at the MacFadden Health cottage to take care of all the patients. The only way to prevent this situation is for all students to be immunized," she said.

Teammate Gerry Coleman, meanwhile, left yesterday with a group of other major leaguers for a three-week tour of U.S. Army posts in Europe.

WASHINGTON — President Harry Truman cancelled his Thursday news conference to avoid competition with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who will report at that time to Congress concerning European defense.

'Previews of Progress' Show Features Zooming Buzz-bombs

Tomorrow at 12:30 p.m. in Morris Dailey auditorium, General Motors' "Previews of Progress" takes the stage under the joint sponsorship of the San Jose State college Engineering society and the San Jose Engineering club.

Admission to the show is free and the general public is invited, according to H. R. Hewitt, student chairman. "A large crowd is expected, especially from the downtown club and invited guests," Hewitt declared. The Engineering society is sponsoring a luncheon for the club members immediately preceding the showing.

Albert Hagman and Del Carlson, in charge of the show for General Motors, will demonstrate almost every phase of modern scientific improvements, Hewitt said, and will try to explain jet propulsion to a layman audience. Aiding them in this experiment will be a miniature jet engine in actual operation on stage. During the lecture and show, models of a jet plane and a buzz-bomb will zoom across the auditorium.

Edison's experiments in lighting will be demonstrated in a display

"Unless the San Jose Planning commission's proposal to widen San Carlos and San Fernando streets between Seventh and Ninth streets is withdrawn, the San Jose State college building program will be ruined," Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie exclaimed Friday in an interview.

Play Tickets Are Available

Time is running out for students to purchase tickets to "Pygmalion," according to Mrs. Verda K. Jackson of the Speech office.

As of Friday afternoon there were only three tickets left for Friday night, Feb. 2. About a dozen seats remain for Saturday, Mrs. Jackson said. Good seats still are available for the other three nights of the play's run.

"Pygmalion", which features Betsy Smith, Fred Adair, and Mr. Alden Smith, is the first play of the winter quarter.

In this play Shaw uses his flair for the English language to keep the play alive. The play is dependent on the dialogue for its popularity.

Art Teachers' Silver Display Will Go on Exhibit Feb. 5-8

Chief Justice King Announces Rules For Feb. 1, Nominations Assembly

Rules for the forthcoming class nominations on Feb. 1, as announced Jan. 24, by Chief Justice Bob King are:

1. Nominations shall be opened by the Student Council member in charge. The person nominating the candidate should fill out the nomination blank handed out at the beginning of the assembly and hand it in at the time of nomination.

2. The nomination must be made from the floor and the acceptance must be made by the candidate either orally or written with his signature.

3. In the case of class officers and class representatives, the nominator must be of the same night in an address to the college Patrons' association during its annual dinner in the Men's gymnasium.

Following the recommendation of Michael Antonacci, city planning engineer, the San Jose City Council recently passed the controversial street widening order. Dr. MacQuarrie Thursday publicly asked all friends of San Jose State college to support him in persuading the council to rescind its action approving the initial recommendation.

"An artesian well once was located at the site of the Men's gym," Dr. MacQuarrie explained. "To prevent flooding of Washington Square, the city constructed a 33-foot ditch to run off well water to Coyote creek, one-quarter mile from the college. When the well dried up, the city paved over the area, making San Carlos street 33 feet wider between Fourth and Seventh streets than it is east of Seventh."

"The city also paved over a 33-foot strip on San Fernando street for symmetry's sake," Dr. MacQuarrie added.

The president declared that the State now is holding up action to purchase four lots on San Carlos street which will go to the city under the planning engineer's plan.

Dr. MacQuarrie emphatically told the Patrons' association that the Planning commission was trying to "chisel the college out of its land." He emphasized that State officials first learned that easements retaining the land for street uses were in effect when deeds for the high school property were received in Sacramento.

"The planning engineer wants the 33-foot strips on San Carlos street for parking spaces for 44 cars, and to fulfill the city's master plan," Dr. MacQuarrie stated.

in New York City. The exhibit will be here Feb. 5-8, according to Dr. Marques E. Reitzel, head of the Art department.

Represented in the exhibit is some of the work of Mr. Robert R. Coleman, formerly of the Art department faculty, and now on military leave in the Air Corps.

Mr. Coleman was one of 12 artists invited to attend the conference by sponsors Handy and Harman, refiners and fabricators of precious metals. Mr. Coleman, now stationed at McClellan Field, will visit San Jose to deliver a lecture on the silversmith's art at 11:30 a.m. on Tuesday, Feb. 6, in Room 1 of the Art building.

class standing as the person he is nominating.

4. The motion to close nominations should come from the floor. It takes a two-thirds vote to close nominations and a majority to reopen them.

The regular elections will be by preferential ballot in the Student Union Wednesday, Feb. 7.

To Visit Stanford

Dr. Frank Luther Mott, outstanding authority in the field of journalism, will be visiting professor of journalism at Stanford university during the coming summer quarter, President Wallace Sterling announced Friday.

Women's Living Groups Will Aid DP Students

Two women's living organizations have pledged room and board for one year for one displaced student each, according to Jim Martin, executive secretary of the Student Y.

Presbyterian hall and Wachob hall have offered their assistance in the program, coordinated by the Student Y, to bring five displaced students from Europe to study at San Jose State college.

Alpha Phi Omega, national honorary service fraternity, has pledged to give the books and school supplies for one student, to the extent of $150.

Under the chairmanship of Katie Lambert, a committee has been set up to coordinate the project.

Time is the important factor, according to Miss Lambert, since the International Relief organization, under which the program is being planned, has set the deadline for scholarship assurances for students as March 1. Before the assurances may be sent, the sponsoring organizations must have pledged that D. P. students will have board and room, college expenses or a job opportunity, clothing, transportation from New York to the college, and a place to spend vacations.

This year is the last chance for American students and American schools to offer a future to these students, according to information received by the Student Y.

Daily Report on Spartan Athletics

Spartan Boxers Defeat Compton; Frazer Loses

By JIM DOWNS

In what looked like a meeting between the Martins and the Coys, the Spartan boxing team polished off an aggressive Compton college boxing squad Friday night, 6-1.

A crowd of 1800 fans watched the matches in the Men's gym. The Tartars salvaged their lone victory when National Junior College Champion Ellsworth Webb defeated Bob Frazer in a 155-lb. match.

Webb had too much experience for his sophomore foe and took every round with his hard straight punching.

In the most exciting match of the evening, Spartan Johnny Johnson decided Bob Shanahan in a 14-lb. match. Johnson had his opponent on the canvas five times during the bout, twice in the first thirty seconds.

The SJ Swelterweight charged out at the opening bell, promptly landed a hard right on Shanahan's jaw, knocking him down.

Shanahan came back in the second with equal aggressiveness but lost the round much to the crowd's displeasure. Johnson took the third round by several haymakers and scoring two knockdowns.

Diez Wins by TKO

Nick Diez TKO'd Compton's George Denny in a 165-lb. match. Diez moved in on the Tartar boxer relentlessly and finally stopped him in the second round with a fusillade of blows.

In the light-heavyweight division, Spartan Ray Lehmkuhl decided Jerry Hansink. Lehmkuhl piled up a considerable lead in the first two rounds and almost finished Hansink in the last with a series of vicious punches when the Tartar tired.

Charlie Adkins, 135-pounder, won a TKO verdict from Compton's Alex Qualls in a 145-lb. set-to. Adkins finished his foe in the second round with two hard rights one to the mid-section.

After losing the first round, Don Laclergue came back strong in the last two to decision Tartar Hobart Pollard in a 165-lb. bout.

Spartan Don Camp TKO'd Al Daniels in the first bout of the evening, a 130-lb. match.

In another crowd-pleaser, Vic Harris won a unanimous decision over Compton's George Gray. It looked like a grudge match, but

Spartan Gymnasts Duel Cards Tonite

The San Jose State college gymnasts make their second home appearance of the season when they entertain the Stanford university gymnastic squad in the small gym at 8 o'clock tonight.

Coach Ted Mumby's local squad dropped its season opener to College of the Pacific here two weeks ago.

Local entrants against the Indians will include Ron Bryan; Len Cross, Dick Engfer, John Halfhill, Andy Hardin, Mark Hildebrand, Norm Hirshman, Don Peckham, Russ Rabeneau and Mario Valdestri.

Peckham and Rabeneau, leading Spartan scorers against COP, are expected to lead SJS against the Indians tonight. Peckham was the star of the 1950 gymnastic team. Rabeneau is described as greatly improved over last year.

Harris' orthodox style and condition proved to be too much for his opponent.

Arizona Tumbles Local Five, 62-55

By BOB QUINLAN

Arizona University, the nation's 14th ranking team, lived up to its reputation Saturday night when it exploded for 40 points in the second half to defeat San Jose State college, 62-55, in the men's gym.

The first half was a nip and tuck affair with the lead shifting back and forth and finally ending up with the Wildcats, 22-20. In the second half the vaunted Arizona fast-break split the Spartans' defense wide open, and the Wildcats won going away.

The Spartan attack was set back by the unusual inaccuracy of its two high scorers, Dean Giles and Chuck Crampton. The usually reliable duo could only muster nine points between them.

It was a case of too much Roger Johnson, who tallied 25 times, 17 of them coming in the second half outburst. He gave the Wildcats a substantial lead, which they never again relinquished, when he tanked two field goals in the first 10 seconds of the second period.

The Spartans' offensive burden fell into the hands of Elmer Craig and Bobby Crowe. The diminutive pair kept the locals in the ball game with their timely drive-in shots.

Led by Crowe's baskets and Giles, Crampton and George Clark's control of both backboards, the Spartans outplayed the Wildcats in the first period, and it appeared as though an upset was in the making.

After five minutes of play had elapsed the Spartans took the lead for the first time, 5-4, after two successive buckets by Crampton, his only of the evening. Roger Johnson and Art Carroll retaliated quickly to give the Wildcats a 10-5 bulge.

San Jose took fire behind a barrage of baskets by Crowe, Clark, and Billy Wilson to build up an 18-14 lead, their largest of the game. Four quick Arizona baskets, however, gave the Wildcats their half-time lead.

The second period was an entirely different story, as Arizona gained control of both the game and the backboards. The Wildcats ran up an early 32-22 lead in the period on baskets by Roger Johnson, Carroll, and Jerry Dillon.

Midway through the second half the Red and Blue quintet built up the widest margin between the two teams, 48-32.

Craig and Wilson fought back with an onslaught of buckets to narrow the final difference down to seven points, 62-55.

Roger and Leo Johnson, one of the finest pairs of guards the Spartans have met this season, were the game's high scorers with 25 and 13 points, respectively. Craig paced the Spartans with 13, and was followed by Crowe with nine and Wilson with eight.

Tomorrow night the varsity will play Cal Poly and Wednesday they meet St. Marys. Both games will be played in Spartan gym.

Wrestling Tourney Deadline

Entry deadline for the Fourth Annual San Jose State college Novice Wrestling tournament is Wednesday, Jan. 31, Ted Mumby, tournament chairman, announced late Friday.

There will be two tournaments going on at the same time. One is the Fourth Annual College Novice Wrestling tourney, the other is the First Annual Inter-Fraternity Council Novice mat meet.

Wrestlers who enter the competition and are of the unknown variety, may be disqualified after the competition has started. "The point is, a novice tourney must remain novice. It is exceedingly hard for a wrestler to fool a wrestler," Mumby said.

Awards will include medals for first and second place winners in both tournaments. A shield or perpetual trophies will be awarded the winning team in each division, and a trophy to the winning coach in each tournament.

The outstanding rooting group and the best yell leader also will be awarded trophies. In this respect, the Novice Wrestling tournament will resemble the Novice

Boxing meet held during fall quarter each year.

Vatcher Brands China Peace Movement 'Ruse'

By HAL BORCHERT

A few weeks ago representatives of the Peoples' Republic of China led by the unforgettable General Wu Hsiu-chuan moved en masse to Lake Success to talk turkey and pass the peace pipe among the United Nations.

The boys at New York didn't like the taste of the tobacco and the turkey was too well done on the one side, so the general packed his grips and returned to Peiping. Since then at least five peace notes have been sent by Foreign Minister Chou En-lai.

Dr. Vatcher Suspicious

Here at San Jose State college, Dr. William H. Vatcher, social science instructor, wasn't having any either.

The social science professor, who knows China like the back of his hand, thinks the United States made a grave mistake when it accepted China as a major power in World War II.

The unprecedented move of recognizing it as a great nation has gone to China's head. That country now feels that it is in a position to dictate peace terms and in its own back yard at Peiping.

"China is anything but a world power," Dr. Vatcher pointed out, "all it has is manpower." China has no raw materials to speak of; the average annual steel consumption is only three pounds per capita. In the United States it is about one-half ton per person.

Peace Plan Is Ruse

Dr. Vatcher feels the whole peace movement might be a ruse designed to divide the West. "Divide and conquer is always a valid military move," he said.

"If the communists can succeed in splitting the major powers by a propaganda movement they will have half the battle won. We must be aware of psychological warfare and counter it with our own propaganda."

Asked what he thought of the Voice of America, he said flatly, "It is not complete enough to do the job."

Dr. Vatcher was psychological warfare officer on Admiral Chester Nimitz' staff during World War II.

Gillis May Tour Europe, U.S. Soon

Although his application for sabbatical leave has been approved by the California State Board of Education, Dr. Hugh W. Gillis, head of the Speech department, says two possibilities may keep him from taking leave in June.

If the Speech building is begun, or if the conversion to divisions instead of departments needs planning, he will postpone his leave, Dr. Gillis stated. Dr. Gillis is the head of the new Fine Arts division.

When he takes the leave, Dr. Gillis plans to spend six months touring Europe visiting dramatic productions and speech schools. He also will spend six months touring the United States.

Photos Are Ready

Engineering society members were advised Friday by F. T. Huang, publicity manager, that pictures of the group are available in the Engineering office, Room 32, at 75 cents a print.

The pictures are those taken of the organization for La Torre publication, Huang said.

Hillyard Talks To IRC Group

"Socialist projects in England would probably only be toned down by a Conservative party victory in the near future," stated Dr. Sydney Hillyard, former head of the Los Gatos Union high school Commerce department, in a talk before the International Relations club Wednesday evening in the Student Union. He was introduced by Dr. George Bruntz, adviser to the group.

Dr. Hillyard, recently returned from an extensive tour of England and the Continent, emphasized that a new cabinet conceivably could not change to any great extent the reforms in mining, railroads, public building, and what Americans call "socialized medicine" simply because the people and many of the former private owners do not want a change.

"If the conservative party triumphs in forthcoming tests of power, about the only change in the extensive social program of the Labour government will be a change in the income tax rates, which have decimated the ranks of the rich in England in recent years," Dr. Hillyard stated. "Cuts in social services also will come in the event of a Tory victory. However, not much can be done about much of the social program, because power to change the program rests in a large part in the hands of local English government (the county councils) that derive their power directly from the Crown."

Pennsylvania was the first state to introduce inspection of mines.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

Number 12...THE MOURNING DOVE

"Some of them are pretty sad!"

Melancholy and dejected, this gloomy miss found little to titillate her in the recent deluge of quick-trick cigarette tests! She was not enthralled by the idea of judging cigarette mildness with just a fast puff or a single sniff.

But, joy of joys! ... happiness came to her when she discovered one test that left no doubt in her mind.

It was the sensible test! ... the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as a steady smoke — on a pack after pack, day after day basis. No snap judgments needed. After you've enjoyed Camels — and only Camels — for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste) we believe you'll know why...

More People Smoke Camels than any other cigarette!
